SCHOOL REPORT.

Among the first of my official duties, was to make the acquaintance of many—yes, very many gentlemen, known to the public as Book Agents. Some came alone, some attended, but still they came. Temporary relief was gained by referring them to the efficient board of education at the Bridge, and the board very politely referred them back to me, and in turn by me were referred back to them.

Finally, we decided, as a change was absolutely necessary, to adopt Swinton's grammar, Warren's brief course in geography and Robinson's arithmetics. The former were obtained at reduced rates, and the arithmetics at an even exchange for the old ones. This change will make a uniformity throughout the town.

Maps of New Hampshire were introduced into every school in town at the beginning of the school year, and are giving general satisfaction.

In general, the teachers have endeavored to do all in their power for the benefit and welfare of the scholars. In this line I am more than a "third termers," and would recommend to retain a good teacher as long as that teacher fills the bill, as it matters not how efficient the new comer may be, more or less time is lost in the preliminaries, while the former fully understanding the wants and progress made during the preceding term is amply prepared to resume the work at once.

The deportment, attendance and advancement made in all the departments, has been, taken as a whole, most excellent.

A strong arm joined with a kind heart and earnest desire for the progress of the scholars has produced a marked effect. In several districts, where once the scholars were the masters, now, the teachers are, and in these particular schools, the advancement has been most apparent. With proper discipline in the school-room—result, advancement and benefit; without discipline—absolutely, nothing beneficial.

DISTRICT No. 1.

The school in this district is under the supervision of a board of education agreeably to Chap. 87, article 17, of the general laws.

DISTRICT No. 2.

Two terms by Lilla M. Felch. Improvement very good; deportment satisfactory; manner of instruction clear and practical.

DISTRICT No. 3.

One term by Weltha Farwell, who worked hard for the advancement of the scholars, and was successful in her efforts; order good, thorough in her instruction and very industrious.

DISTRICT No. 4.

Two terms. First by Mary A. Crosby, an excellent teacher, competent, thorough and willing; progress rapid; second by Helen M. Pease, an industrious teacher, and quite thorough; advancement and deportment good.

DISTRICT No. 5.

Two terms by Elmar M. Noyes, a most excellent teacher, capable, ambitious and very thorough; discipline excellent, progress rapid, advancement good. The school-house is however a miserable failure. It has the appearance of a cross, between a horse shed and a sap house. Inside it is "fearfully and wonderfully made." The blackboards are anything but what they should be; it is with difficulty that a mark upon them can be made, and if so, it always remains. There has been some talk of removing them, but like Banquo's Ghost, they don't seem to go down. For the welfare of the school, to say the least, it is to be hoped that they will not greet the teacher and pupils at the opening of the next term.

DISTRICT No. 6.

Two terms. The school in this district has for some years past borne a peculiar reputation. It has been regarded by the scholars, especially during the winter terms as a sort of a "Donny Brook Fair," where the custom is, "When you see a head, hit it." Aside from other pastimes, going in and out of the windows, calling out to the passers by, etc., until the parents and prudential committee concluded to inaugurate a new deal, which was very successful. Lucy P. Morse taught the summer term very creditably to herself and profitably to the scholars. The winter term was also a success. The prudential committee was for some time like Japhet, not however in search of his father, but for a good teacher. He found one in the person of Mark M. Hadley, who very satisfactorily filled the bill.

DISTRICT No. 7.

One term by Lucy P. Morse, good progress, order satisfactory.

DISTRICT No. 8.

Two terms by Mary E. Hazen, a painstaking, industrious and efficient teacher; both terms were very creditable.

DISTRICT No. 9.

Two terms. First by Alma C. Hadley, order good, progress satisfactory. Second by Alice A. Gould, a teacher of experience and merit. Her services resulted in a good school.

DISTRICT No. 10

Two terms by Alice P. Wyman, a teacher of much energy and most excellent methods. The examination was very creditable to teacher and scholars.

DISTRICT No. 11.

Two terms. First by Mary L. Russell, who possesses many excellent qualifications for a teacher; the examination good. Second, by Fannie M. Bowler, a teacher of a fine education, but not the requisite amount of firmness to make the school what it ought to have been; progress fair, deportment passable.

DISTRICT No. 12.

Two terms. First by Clara J. Nichols. It was quite a successful school; would have been better if more care and interest had been exercised. Second, by Sadie M. Holman, a first-class teacher, industrious, competent and determined; gave excellent satisfaction.

DISTRICT No. 13.

Two terms. First by Della J. Tandy, second by James M. Ray. Both were successful terms.

DISTRICT No. 14.

One term by Marietta J. Whitcomb, a teacher of perseverance and good methods; was a profitable school in all respects.

DISTRICT No. 15.

One term by Nathan E. Farrar, a desirable teacher, examination good.

DISTRICT No. 16.

Two terms by Cora E. Tandy. The scholars made good progress and were thoroughly instructed; much interest was manifested by the teacher for the welfare and advancement of the pupils.

DISTRICT No. 17.

Two terms. First term by Susan M. Dodge, a teacher of good ability, willing and energetic; examination very satisfactory. Second, by DeWit C. Durgin. Mr. Durgin is a superior teacher, practical, thorough and very industrious. The term was a success.

DISTRICT No. 18.

Two terms by Ada H. Buxton. Both terms were highly creditable to both teacher and pupils. First-class in many respects.

DISTRICT No. 19.

One term by Flora M. Brown. Satisfactory, practical and thorough.

Respectfully submitted,

KIRK D. PIERCE,

Superintending School Committee.
